

Executive Biography: Rodney Barton

Vice President, National Accounts DistribuTech

Rodney Barton joined DistribuTech in 1996 as the Eastern national account manager. Prior to joining DistribuTech, Barton spent eight years in various positions with Black & Decker.

As a National Account Manager with DistribuTech, Barton developed significant relationships with the company's vendors and successfully negotiated distribution contracts. Due to his substantial efforts, Barton was promoted in January 2004 to his current position as vice president, National Accounts. Barton has successfully overseen all national accounts within DistribuTech for the past six years.

For more information about DistribuTech visit www.distributech.net.

###